Heartfulness
Through meditation, calm

The F.I.R.S.T. Course Gives You “The Six Keys to Heartful Relationships.”

- Prevent or respond effectively to relationship challenges that arise and know exactly what to say and do by asking yourself four important questions. The answers will point you to an effective response, so you quickly and easily identify the real issue that is at the core of the emotions and behaviors you are seeing.
- Have a caring conversation that helps each person be understood and find a solution that is agreeable to both parties. When you take these 5 steps, using these five tools, you never have to have a heated confrontation again.
- Become consciously aware of the limiting, negative beliefs and behavior patterns you have that continue to bring the same conflicts and drama into your life. When these beliefs shift and these blocks are clear, you create space that can be filled with love. This brings unlimited possibilities of positive change. Plus, others have to respond to you differently.
- Clear out the clutter and toxins of past resentments and trauma and fill that space with truth, love and forgiveness, so you can heal and be whole. Even if others don't change or the relationship ends, you can now attract in only positive relationships with others and never again have to relive or be affected by past hurts and histories.
- Establish a vision of the ideal relationship, so you can stop focusing on what's wrong with the other person and get clear on what you want the relationship to be.
- Learn the three-step process for manifesting anything you want in your life. We will focus on relationships, but you can use this process to create the relationships and life of your dreams.
